Property Description

Sunsets never seen before, spectacular gardens, and privacy; are just some of the main features that give life to this unique home.Built with fine and resistant wood in 2019 on a 22421 square feet lot, this house of 2475 square feet of construction on one level transports you to an environment surrounded by aromas that you have probably never perceived before. Its social areas and the most private areas in the house have special details to provide the comfort you deserve.It is definitely a property for those who love to be in contact with nature. I can assure you that its spacious and well-kept gardens will make you live a different experience every day. On the main terrace with a cup of coffee or tea in your hand during the rainy season, you will experience one of the most relaxing moments in your life. On the other hand, during the summertime, each sunset you will see will make you think that each day is unique and you have to live it to the fullest.
