Property Description

This premier home site sits at approx 1000 feet of elevation in the very desirable Escaleras section of Dominical. The property has a 100 foot long, private, palm lined driveway which leads to a bi-level home site. The area is surrounded by high valued homes and estates, and this parcel boasts some of the most desirable views anywhere on the coast. The one acre site affords generous space for parking, building and view protection and the electricity and water run right along the property line. The view is simply mesmerizing; uninterrupted vistas of the coastal headlands, the iconic Whale's Tail rock reef, off shore rock islands, a distant national park island (Isla de Caño) and the Osa Peninsula can all clearly be seen - not to mention the magical forest and all its life which surrounds the parcel. Property sales, rentals and market activity have been strong in this area, and this parcel is very well aligned to remain blue chip real estate and a very sound investment and lifestyle asset.
