Property Description

11 acres of gently sloping ridge in a jungle setting capturing the pacific ocean views at a jaw dropping 45 degree angle, this parcel is ideal for a super exclusive private estate, or a boutique hotel site. Access is well maintained, and within 10 minutes of the coast highway, and within close proximity to many of the pristine beaches between Dominical and Quepos. The buildable ridge runs parallel to the coast with an elevation drop of approximately 400 feet and with an existing access road in place that runs along the mountainside of the ridge allowing for easy access to several key building sites with epic views. One of the few remaining estate sized properties in the area!
