Property Description

This amazing home is located in the spectacular mountains of the Santa Juana community, approximately one hour away from Quepos and half an hour from San Marcos de Tarrazu. Santa Juana is the first town of what is called Zona de Los Santos, home to some of the best coffees in the world. This is a sustainable and ecofriendly property that is ideal for someone looking to live off grid, implementing the true meaning of sustainability while still being with good access and short drives to existing communities and eco tourism projects. The property is serviced with water from a natural spring, 100% of its electricity originates from its solar panels, and there is ample space to grow your own fruits and vegetables; with a total of 36 hectares, you will have enough space to let your imagination fly! This property has 360 views. You can see impressive mountains full of giant trees, coffee plantations, fruit trees, and dramatic valleys on one side.
