Property Description

Set above the Buena Vista River, this 3,876 m² (0.96-acre) lot offers a unique combination of elevation, views, and natural surroundings just minutes from Sámara. The property features an elevated homesite with peaceful river and jungle views, giving it a sense of privacy while still being easily accessible. The terrain is well-suited for building, with enough space to design a main home, guest house, or rental units. One of the key advantages here is that water and electricity are already in place, making the property ready for immediate development and saving both time and upfront costs. The lot sits next to the river, creating a calm, natural setting with the sound of flowing water and regular wildlife activity. At the same time, you're just a short drive from Sámara's beaches, restaurants, and everyday amenities. With subdividable potential, this is also a strong option for someone looking at a small development or long-term investment in a growing area.
